

Warrior Wisdom

People, like geese, who work together harmoniously on teams, sharing common values and a common destination, all arrive at the destination quicker and easier, because they are lifted up by the energy and enthusiasm of one another.

Every fall thousands of geese fly from Canada to the southern part of the United States to escape the bitterly cold Canadian winter.

As soon as a flock of geese take flight from Canadian waters they quickly form a v-shape flying pattern, with one rotating goose in the center lead and all the other geese trailing behind in two close lines.

- When geese fly together, each goose provides additional lift and reduces air resistance for the goose flying behind it.
- When a goose drops out of the v-formation it quickly discovers that it requires a great deal more effort and energy to fly.
- Geese rotate leadership.
- Geese honk at each other.
- Geese help each other

Wisdom is found everywhere. Learn from the teamwork of Geese.
