Even Eagles Need a Push

Sometimes it only takes a push for us to soar like an eagle.

This is a story of a mother eagle knowing her important task is to give 'The Push' to teach her eaglets to soar. It's the ultimate responsibility or the eaglets do not survive. Through the eyes and emotions of an eagle we can relate to needing the help and/or offering the help of 'The Push' from someone or even for someone in our lives.
